

Environmental Policy

Commglass prides itself on our Zero Harm philosophy. We seek to carry out our services without causing harm to the environment or human health. It is this objective which underpins our Environment, health and safety policies.

All Commglass employees and contractors are responsible for meeting the environmental expectations of the organisation. We consider our environment to include the local communities in which we operate, customer sites, our office and storage depots and those destinations we travel through to provide the services we offer.

In implementing this policy Commglass will:

- Establish and implement a waste management plan to ensure waste is minimised and materials are recycled wherever possible.
- Engage the co-operation of any employees, contractors and suppliers in achieving the objectives set out in our waste management plan and this policy.
- Measure our carbon footprint and implement continuous improvement strategies to mitigate our environmental impact.
- Offset the balance of our carbon emissions.
- Regularly review the basis for this policy and implement changes and innovations which help achieve our ultimate objective of zero harm.
- Make a positive contribution to improving the environment in which we operate by implementing a formal Affirmative Action Plan.
